First off, I want to start off by saying this has been a long time coming! I have been very close to hitting my first Eagle more times than I would care to admit. Each time I fell short I had no idea what was missing and why I fell short. Then something finally clicked and I realized how help and support from the team around me could make the difference.

Before, I had never asked for help holding myself accountable or asked for advice on how to keep going when you are on a roll. This week was different. This week I asked Van Davenport to hold me accountable to hitting my goal of my first Eagle and also from my direct manager, Kyle, to keep me going.

This week I committed to something I had never done and that was to work over 50 hours. That was where Van and Kyle came in to hold me accountable to it. I knew my numbers and that if I put in the effort, I would achieve my goal. And I did!

This company is unlike any other I have worked with in the past. This Eagle has shown me how much this organization is like family, not some job. The people here will go out of their way and above and beyond expectations to help you succeed and achieve your goals. I could not have done this without the help and support of everyone around me.

Thank you for this opportunity and truly caring and helping me get to where I am in my career and for the help achieving this milestone.
